HUD'S HOMELESS RESOURCES IN MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN

While HUD does not make direct housing placements, it does provide funding to organizations that administer housing programs for people experiencing homelessness. Your constituent might be eligible for housing and services funded under one of the HUD homeless programs listed below.

Under HUD's Transitional Housing program, eligible homeless applicants pay up to 30 percent of their adjusted income for rent and receive housing and services tailored to move them to independent living in 24 months.

Below is a list of HUD-funded transitional housing located in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

There are also a number of emergency shelters for the homeless located in Milwaukee that can be accessed from a free housing website called wifrontdoor.org. When conducting a housing search on this website, type in “emergency shelter.”

Emergency shelters generally accept “walk-ins” provided there is space available. Transitional housing organizations usually need to be contacted in advance to determine if there are vacancies and if potential applicants are eligible.

Please note that constituents should not call the HUD office for placement in any of the programs listed above. Potential applicants must establish direct contact with the housing and/or service provider and undergo an intake assessment specific to each program in order to qualify for assistance.
